VI. Information Items

- A. Review by Executive Director of April GCLD Department Highlights and Statistics

All Staff Training was held May 14 with a focus on safety. Matt Carlson, former CEO of Mind Springs and CEO of Making Warriors, discussed common problem interactions of library staff with customers, helping reframe the responses. Chief Kraker and Dan Mayer presented a program dealing with responding to dangerous situations. The staff benefitted greatly from their reassuring manner, attention to detail, and practice drills.

Bessie Minor Swift Foundation grant was received for $3,000 to support “All that Jazz!” Teens will experience art, music, youth radio, writing, drawing comics, and more throughout the two summer months.

Ralph shared new information about the impending Gallagher Act influence on property taxes in Grand County.

- B. Review of plans for Summer Reading 2018 Jeanie Johnson
Johnson shared the publicity pieces of Libraries Rock! with the trustees, explaining in detail arrangements, reasons for choices of programs, details about the reading logs, and opportunities for all.
- C. Change to library card requirements
The current library card requirements are daunting for many moving to Grand County. We would like to have a limited access card: five items checked out a time, with restrictions on special items such as musical instruments, DVD players, etc.
